WHIPPING AS A REMEDY.

Mellie Logan, at the City Hospital, Has Suffered for Years.

A strange case is occupying the attention of the physicians at the City Hospital. The patient is Mellie Logan, nineteen years old, daughter of Mrs. George Bone, of 1626 North Illinois street. The girl was received at the City Hospital last Wednestendent Ferguson that the girl was subject to "spells," which she could not acthe bathroom it was discovered that the Spencer, A. L. Roache, John W. Kern, H. S. New, H. N. Spaan, John G. Williams. lower part of her body was covered with stripes resulting from a recent whipping. Many of the stripes had cut through the skin and blood was oozing from them. The girl told the superintendent she had Shelbyville, A. W. Conduitt, John H. Holbeen almost constantly whipped and that her mother and step-father and her stepfather's mother had been punishing her cruelly for four years. Later she said that she had deserved the whippings, for ste had been very bad. At times the girl talked Albert Gall, Franklin S. Landers, T. J. rationally in this strain and at other times she abused her mother and relatives roundly, denying that she did anything to merit the severe whippings they administered to her. She became hysterical at such times, little credence was given her state-

Mrs. Bone says that she is responsible for the whippings her daughter received, and claims she punished the girl on the advice of Dr. G. H. F. House, of 1563 North IIlinois street, and other physicians. She says the girl has apparently "had the devil in her" for four years, and that everything has been done for her, without avail. She says the girl was treated at Rush Medical College in Chicago, but received no help. Physicians who had been called to attend her, the mother said, usually came to the conclusion that it was only meanness that afflicted the girl, and they usually recommended whipping. The mother says the girl would destroy property, break up furniture and dishes and tear up bed clothing. She says that she and Mr. Bone spent several thousand dollars to cure the girl. Mr. Bone admits the girl was whipped, but says it was not done with any idea of being cruel or of vengeance. He says it was done in all kindness, with a view of benefiting her. He declared that the girl's mother had suffered worse than the girl, for the latter had caused the mother years of worry and had been the cause of much suffering and unnecessary labor. Dr. House denies having advised whipping. He says he told the mother of the girl that if she were his daughter he would try the efficacy of whipping. The girl's condition is precarious. She suffering from acute hysteria. Dr. Ferguson said last night that he was not prepared to say whether the punishment the girl received had caused it or not. He said that such punishment would aggravate the He would not give an opinion as to whether the girl would recover her

THREE HOURS IN STATE

EX-SENATOR VOORHEES'S REMAINS TO BE AT CAPITOL AT NOON.

Militia and Citizens to Make Up Cortege from Union Station-Exercises at Washington.

For three hours to-day the body of Indiana's ex-senator, Daniel W. Voorhees, | gathering being scores of men of national will lie in state in the Capitol building. The body will arrive at 11:40 o'clock and will be taken directly to the Statehouse. There it will be viewed until 3 o'clock, when it will be again taken to the Union Station, and at 3:45 the funeral party will leave for Terre to the public at 12:30 o'clock. The sole entrance will be from the Washington-street front, with exit at Ohio street, Both the east and west entrances will be closed.

The funeral party will be met at the Union Station by the Governor and all the State officers, the judges of the Supreme and Appellate Courts, the federal officers and the city and county officers. No invitations were issued to any civil organizations or clubs, but if any should wish to ceremony at the church the funeral cortege join the reception committee it will be wel- | moved to the Sixth-street station, where comed. The escorting bodies will reform at 3 o'clock to escort the remains to the funeral train. The line of march at this time will be south on Capitol avenue to the Union tracks.

The committees and organizations, preparatory to escorting the remains from the train, will form on North Capitol avenue at 11 o'clock, with right resting on Market street. The citizens' reception committee will report to W. F. C. Golt. The line of the prayer Mr. Gorman, of Maryland, march will be east on Washington to Me-ridian street, thence south to the Union Station, where the body will be taken from | many senators desired to attend the futhe train and escorted up Meridian street | neral. The motion prevailed, and at 12:05 p. to Washington street, thence to the Capi- m. the Senate adjourned. tol. The order of escort is as follows: Platoon of Police, under command of Capt.

J. F. Quigley. Indiana National Guard. Hearse, Honorary and Active Pallbearers. Citizens' Reception and Escort Committee. Any organization desiring to participate. Carriage containing Governor Mount, Chas. E. Wilson, Mayor Taggart and Chief Justice Supreme Court. . Carriages containing congressional committees and family.

HONORARY PALLBEARERS The honorary pallbearers, who will report to Frank B. Burke, at the Governor's office at Il o'clock, are: Frank B. Burke, W. H. Armstrong, John G. Williams, John W. Kern, William E. English, John C. New, E. B. Martindale and Dan M. Ransdell. At 12:30 o'clock, at the Capitol, the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will sing an anthem. Collier & Murphy will have charge of the casket arrangements. In the Governor's parlors yesterday morning there was a meeting of citizens to arrange for the reception of the body. Wilam D. Bynum suggested that a committee on arrangements should be appointed to have full power to do everything necessary for the proper reception of the body and the attending party, and to appoint neces-sary subcommittees. Governor Mount appointed the committee as follows: Frank Burke, Edward Hawkins, W. D. Bynum, J. P. Frenzel, Millard F. Cox, John W. Kern and Frederick J. Scholz. The committee held a meeting at once and decided upon its arrangements. The subcommittee appointed to take harge of the music, carriages and other letails is composed of J. P. Frenzel, J. A. Lemcke, Merrill Moores, Charles Maguire, A. C. Daily, J. E. McGettigan, Harry Smith and W. H. Schmidt. They met in the afternoon and completed their arrangements. Carriages will be provided for the funeral party and reception committee, and a band of music will form a part of the cortege. The bier will be placed in the rotunda of the Statehouse and arrangements for the viewing of the body by the people are in the hands of Custodian Vest, aided by William Langstaff, Charles E. Haugh and John E. Hennessey. The same committee has charge of the decorations, which will be completed this morning. Flags, flowers and palms will be furnished in profusion. W. D. Bynum will act as a committee of one to show attentions to the funeral party. The following is the citizens' reception committee: Governor James A. Mount, W. D. Owen, Edward Hawkins, Charles E. The remains were removed from the home on Capitol hill to the church a short time before the hour set for the ceremonies. The cortege included a number of carriages occupied by senators, the Senate having adjourned out of respect for the memory of the man who was for so many years a prominent and popular member of that body. The black cloth covered casket was almost hidden from view under a mass of flowers, tributes from friends and from the former associates of

Obtaining Fine Effects that Will Show at the Big Annual Festival Next Month.

Pedestrians who passed the corner Pennsylvania and Michigan streets las evening heard sounds of music from High singers rehearsing for the May Festival. Mr. Van Der Stucken, the eminent director, wielded the baton and for two hours he few years that it is hard work from 8 to 10 o'clock, with scarcely a moment of rest, except when the parts are being rehearsed

Last night the first number undertaken was the "Companions, Come," a fisherman's song, from "Masiniello," by Auber. The chorus was handed the music for the first time. The sopranos were called to order and told to sing. The accompanist, Mrs. S. L. Kiser, played the introduction and the sopranos began. There were parts of it that had to be gone over several times; then the altos were asked to sing their part The sopranos and altos took their parts together, then the tenors and basses theirs. This was followed by the request for all to sing and the music went excellently. Those who did not know that the music was being sung for the first time would not credit the statement. Mr. Van Der Stucken is severe, but kindly. When the order is given to "stop" in order to get a word or phrase correctly, it comes impetuously. The chorus understands, and it is quite as quick to stop as to begin. In this way no time is lost while stray voices go on singing, not having heard the order. Rehearsing the chorus is a most businesslike arrangement. prove to a visitor that the fine effects obtained by the chorus is not done at a moment's notice. Mr. Van Der Stucken gives compose," when the sopranos or basses secures a correct pronunciation by singing 'Jo-hoy-ous." He mocks their mistakes necessary. It is quite understoood that the members of the chorus know how to pro-nounce as well as sing. Then, again, he finds that some one holds a tone too long, the owner and agent for $2,000 damages. Charles W. Bridges, Evans Wol- these and other remarks that called attention to mistakes, but a satisfied nod of the count for. When the girl was taken to H. Rice, Andrew Hagan, J. C. Robinson of head plainly told when all was going > Mr. Van Der Stucken has a way of thrusting his head forward when he listens intently for pure pronunciation and enunciation. In passages where the time was a little difficult, the singers were helped by the baton, which pounded the time out on the music rack. The baton, by the way, must be made of very hard wood, for it plays a most important part in the rehearsals; in fact, it would be a difficult matter to control the chorus without the stick. It gives the signal to begin and again to stop; it announces a crescendo and gives the sign for a planissimo. It is a sign for almost every mark of expression and speaks with a well-defined utterance that cannot be mistaken. Just under the platform where the director stands is the plane, at which Mrs. Kiser presides. She plays the parts separately, or in twos, threes or in any way directed and over and over again, just as the singers are called upon to do. While others are resting, the accompanist continues right along. It is a tremendous amount of work that is accomplished in a single evening, and the greatest appreciation is deserved by the singers who meet every Monday evening for months to perfect the choruses which do so much toward making the music festival the artistic success that it always is. The second number taken up was "The Swan and the Skylark," by A. Goring Thomas. This is about the most difficult composition which the chorus will sing this year, and it is one of the most beautiful. The name itself implies its poetic tendency and the words and music form a harmonious symphony. This work has been in rehearsal until many of the singers know the whole to sing without notes. It is the finishing touches that are being put on it. The splendid volume of sound that the chorus gave was thrilling. The harmonies I chised two years. are rich and artistic and all their beauty is prought out in the excellent singing by the members. This number will be one of the for the evening was on the "Tannhauser March." The chorus is just within that pale where completion and perfection is almost reached. In the few rehearsals yet to | Court. come the work will be easier and more interesting. The least signal from the conductor will be obeyed as the works are better known and the result will be just what s sure to be-a fine chorus and good music under an able director.

The work Mr. Van der Stucken has ached with the chorus has excited the mos vorable comment of local musicians, Booth, for costs. and the chorus members are, in turn, very enthusiastic over the director.

CASE POSTPONED

WILL HEAR IT HERE TO-MORROW.

Judge McCray Pronounces His First Sentence Under the New Indeterminate Sentence Law.

The expected argument in the street-car case did not come up yesterday morning. This is the argument on the motion for a temporary injunction in the suit of the Central Trust Company of New York to prevent the enforcement of the 3-cent-fare law until after the case can be heard

When court convened Judge Woods announced that the argument would be heard here to-morrow morning by Judge Showalter, of Chicago. John W. Kern says there is nothing antagonistic in the fact that Ferdinand Winter represents the trust company in this case and is also a member of the firm of attorneys representing the street-car company. Although one is plaintiff and the other defendant, their interests are identical. Mr. Kern is of counsel for the city.

FIRST INDETERMINATE SENTENCE. Graves to Serve Not Less than One Nor

More than Fourteen Years. On a plea of guilty in the Criminal Court yesterday morning Leander Graves was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for a term of not less than one year or more than fourteen years. This is the first sentence in this county under the indeterminate sentence law, Graves admitting having stolen $92 from Mrs. Margaret Bernlochr, of 153 Meek street. The sentence carried with it a fine of $92, the amount stolen. The question of disfranchisement then came up and Judge McCray did not know just what to do. The new law does not mention this feature of the punishment. It was explained to him by Prosecutor Wiltsie that the subject was omitted from the new law for a purpose. It was so as to give the trial judge a chance to express his idea of what the punishment really ought to be. Judge McCray then entered in his record that Graves should be distranchised for two Graves was then informed that at the end of one year he would have the right to apply to the proper board for a release and that his term of imprisonment would depend largely upon his conduct while in prison, but that he could not be released under one year and could not be held more than fourteen years. Being over thirty years of age, Graves was sent to the prison at Michigan City.

Fence Shuts Off the Light.

A partition fence between Nos. 627 and 631 Massachusetts avenue is causing a whole lot of trouble, and finally has become the cause of an action in the Superior Court. Frances C. Zearing owns the house at No. and says in her complaint that for more than twenty years there has been a picket fence 31/2 feet high separating her lot from the adjoining lot, owned by John Burns and his wife. This picket fence, she says, did not obstruct the view from her side window in any way. Recently the de-fendants have built a solid board fence seven feet high on their property close to the picket fence, which cuts off the view, all light at the window, and, the plaintiff says, materially injures the ventilation of her house. She alleges that the fence is useless and needless and a common nuisance, and asks that as a nuisance it be removed by order of court. She also wants $500 damages.

Police Court Cases.

Harvey Smith, the nineteen-year-old son of Marion Smith, of North Indianapolis, was fined in Police Court yesterday morning. He pulled the trigger of his father's pistol at Brighton Beach yesterday to see if it was loaded, and was arrested for having the weapon and for firing it within the city Alexander Davis, a colored man, who hit Aaron Brown with a flatiron, was fined $10 and sentenced to ten days in the wrok-James and Lon Goode were not convicted as charged. They were arrested Saturday night on complaint of James Goode's sister. She said the men got drunk and one of them drove her out of her house with knife. The men denied the charge, Alleged Incandescent Infringement. The Welsbach Light Company yesterday filed three complaints in the United States Circuit Court charging infringement on its rights under letters patent. The defendants are T. O. and H. E. Powell, doing business n the Journal building, in this city; Wabash Fuel Company, of Wabash, and Electric Light, Gas, Heating and Coke Company, of Jeffersonville. The plaintiff claims to own the letters patent for certain devices for incandescent gas burners, and that the similar burners sold and used by the defendants are infringements on the patent owned by plaintiff. A temporary injunction brief respites by such remarks as "Don't | is asked in each case, also damages in the sum of $10,000.

AN ANNEXATION TICKET

ROUSING MEETING HELD AT HAUGHVILLE LAST NIGHT.

Platform Against the Notorious Lawlessness in the Town-Town Board Rescinds Bond Ordinance.

The citizens of Haughville who favor annexation held a convention in the Town Hall last night for the purpose of adopting a set of resolutions voicing the sentiments of the annexationists in regard to municipal government and to nominate candidates to be supported on an independent ticket. The hall was crowded by 7:30 o'clock. Moses Thompson was selected permanent chairman and S. G. McCracken was chosen to act as secretary. As all present were aware of the nature of the meeting no time was wasted in getting down to business and the chairman called for the report of the committee on resolutions, which had been appointed at a preliminary meeting last week. The committee consisted of Moses Thompson, E. H. Moore, H. C. Tomlinson, J. C. Slattery and Calvin A. Childers, and it submitted the following, which were unanimously adopted:

"We, the citizens of Haughville, irrespective of parties, in mass convention as-

"In view of the well-known condition and sentiment of the citizens of Haughville, we do declare for annexation and against any policy that seeks to annul the complete work of annexation. We further declare, pending the suits brought by one Joseph F. Flack, against that policy of our sworn officers in the nonenforcement of laws, and specially those laws against gambling, by which the young boys are robbed of their wages and the morals of our town corrupted and parents subjected to trials that are deep and cutting and ladies insulted upon the streets on account of the environments, the result of the existing condition brought about by this policy of nonenforcement of the laws.

"We further declare against that policy by which citizens and property holders have been deprived of their personal rights, and their petitions disregarded. And in case of failure of annexation, we pledge the minees of this convention for an honest conpartisan municipal government, to respect the wishes of the people, whose servants they are.

"We further declare that the ticket nominated by this convention shall be known as the 'Citizens' Ticket,' and the device for the ballot shall be 'clasped hands. "We further declare in favor of taking vote at the town election on annexation, and are in favor of the board of election commissioners having the words for annevation' and 'against annexation' printed on the ballots.'

The following ticket was also recommended by the committee: For trustee Daniel W. Tibbs; for treasurer, Richard M. Johnson; for clerk, Willis Harmon; for marshal, Barnard Henry, and without any hesitation this list was chosen by the convention. The rapidity with which the work was transacted prevented the opposition from frustating the purpose of the annexationists; and Sergeant Corrigan and four patrolmen were present to prevent any disturbance, but none was attempted. The po litical tendencies of the nominees are: Daniel W. Tibbs, Republican; Richard M. Johnson and Willis Harmon, Democrats, and Barnard Henry, Populist, and this fact substantiates the claim of a nonpartisan ticket. Before the meeting adjourned a vote was aken on the question of the extension of the river park from its present terminus at Indiana avenue to Washington street and all present were unanimously in favor of using every endeavor to secure the desired extension.

TOWN BOARD MEETING. The meeting of the Haughville Town Board last night was delayed until about 8:30 o'clock by the nonappearance of the town's attorney, Mr. Spencer. The express purpose for the board's meeting was to open bids and let the contract for the improvement of Frazee and Cleveland streets with cement sidewalks. Eleven citizens living on Frazee street handed the board petitions asking to be allowed to make their own cement walk improvements and the board, being uncertain how to act in the matter, waited for the arrival of its attorney before making any decision. Attor-ney Spencer decided that the property owners did not have the privilege of making their own improvement under the present law governing the improvement of streets and the letting of contracts, so the board proceeded to open bids and let the contracts in the regular way. Three seperate improvement resolutions were bid on as follows: For the improvement of both sides of Cleveland street, from the north side of Frazee street to the south side of Summit street; both sides of Frazee street. from Belmont avenue west to Tremont avenue, with the exception of such places as are already cemented; the south side of Frazee street, from Tremont avenue to Holmes avenue, where not already cemented; and on the north side of Frazee street, from Holmes avenue to the west Cleveland street. There were a num ber of bids and the board asked the citiproperty owners were present, which con-tractor they wished to have the contract, and they pronounced Laakman & Sherer their choice. The contract was awarded to | ENAMELED SETS, that firm, its bid being at 60 cents per foot on all three improvements. These contractors laid cement walks on Germania An ordinance was next introduced and adopted repealing "an ordinance providing for the issuing of funding bonds' and declaring an emergency. This repeals the or-dinance which called for the issuing of $9,000 worth of bonds and to prevent which a suit was filed in the city. The bond ordi-nance was established March 13. Farson, Leach & Co., of Chicago, who were to buy the bonds, sent word to the attorney that they no longer wanted the bonds. The board adjourned to meet again at 7:30 o'clock to-

THE INDEPENDENT TURNERS.

Their Annual Exhibition of Calisthenics Last Night.

House last night. The occasion was the annual exhibition of the gymnasium classes of the Independent Turnverein. There were upwards of three hundred pupils in the performance last night and in the opening march Director Mols had them all on the stage at once. The evolutions performed and difficult designs woven by these young pupils in their perambulations about the stage, which seemed almost too small to contain them, let alone to permit a series of military marches and countermarches, were a proof that he who directed was possessed of something more than mere muscle. The marching a feature of the evening. exercise had a few military evolutions of unique character to introduce and to close it, all executed with the admirable precision which characterized the whole performance. The active members, so called because of the character of their membership and not on account of their agility, of course furnished the gymnastically difficult part of the programme. It is an unwritten law among the active members that any man who makes a mistake in a public exhibition shall "set 'em up" to the entire class. As there are about forty members of the class, it may easily be seen that the rule furnishes an inducement for correctness. At any rate, very few of the agile active members had to "set 'em up" last night. They appeared four times on the programme and each time gave a good account of themselves. Their high buck vaulting and parallel bar performances were exercises in which they had ample opportunity to display their proficiency in difficult athletic feats. The plastic ladder pyramids, the last and most trying performance of the evening, were admirably executed and artistically arranged, and their iron wand drill was excellently done.

Easter usual proficiency in their exercise and the muscle displayed in their control of the clubs was a source of much comment. The Shopping Reigen, with song, by class No. 2 of girls, was a pretty thing and gracefully done. The tots were in the performance also, and furnished lots of amusement if not an exhibition of skill. The calisthenics, the only exercise in which they could hope to The WM. H. BLOCK CO. excel, were perfectly done, as, for the matter of that, was everything done by anybody during the evening.
